Dane Cole Anderson

PhD Candidate in English, University of Michigan

danecoleanderson@gmail.com · danecoleanderson.com · linkedin.com/in/danecoleanderson · Washington, D.C. area

EDUCATION

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor 2021 – 2027 (expected)
PhD, English Language and Literature
Dissertation: an intellectual history of nineteenth-century Britain through the concepts of subjectivity and objectivity — how British writers introduced them and how their meanings evolved across history, philosophy, and literary criticism.

University of California, Berkeley 2017 – 2021
BA, European History, magna cum laude
Honors thesis (Haas Scholars Fellow): David Hume and the intellectual culture of late-eighteenth- and early-nineteenth-century Scotland.

FELLOWSHIPS AND AWARDS

Rackham Humanities Research Dissertation Award, University of Michigan 2026 – 2027

Rackham Predoctoral Fellowship, University of Michigan 2025 – 2026

Nominee, Heberle Award for Excellence in Graduate Student Teaching, University of Michigan

Haas Scholars Fellowship, University of California, Berkeley 2020 – 2021

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

Shakespeare Association of America (SAA)

North American Victorian Studies Association (NAVSA)

International Nineteenth-Century Studies Association (INCSA)

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

George Mason University — Adjunct Professor Fall 2025
The Bible as Literature (instructor of record): designed the course, lectures, assessments, and assignments; gave detailed feedback on student writing.

University of Michigan — Graduate Student Instructor 2022 – 2025
- First-year writing, three sections (instructor of record). Students' grammar and writing test scores rose by a full letter grade on average; strong evaluations relative to peers in the department and college.
- Graduate Student Instructor for two Shakespeare courses and one course on the Bible as Literature.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Research Assistant to Professor Adela Pinch, University of Michigan Summer 2022
Manuscript preparation for Victorian Fiction and the Location of Experience.

Computational research with AI and ProQuest TDM Studio
Analyzing millions of pages of nineteenth-century British periodicals to locate the sources most relevant to the dissertation and test the representativeness of its evidence.

PUBLIC SCHOLARSHIP

Interview series, danecoleanderson.com 2025 – present
Researched, conducted, and edited fifteen long-form interviews with scholars including Stanley Fish, Hollis Robbins, Michael Clune, Walter Benn Michaels, Kathleen Fitzpatrick, and Paul Fry, on literature, history, religion, AI, and the future of the humanities.

Essays, danecoleanderson.com/blog 2025 – present
Short essays on intellectual history, literature, teaching, and AI.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

AI Model Trainer — micro1 and Mercor (contract) 2025 – present
Write expert-level tasks and rubrics for frontier AI models, evaluate model outputs, and review other experts' work; hundreds of tasks reviewed across dozens of occupations, most in education.

Student Supervisor — Cal Calling Center, UC Berkeley 2018 – 2020
Supervised student fundraising callers, managed call workflows, and analyzed fundraising data.